DETAILED ACTION

The Art Unit location of your application in the USPTO has changed. To aid in correlating any papers for this application, all further correspondence regarding this application should be directed to Art Unit 1631, Examiner Mary K Zeman.

Claims 1, 3-30, 35-44 are pending in this application. Claims 16, 17, 19 and 35-44 stand withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to non-elected inventions. These claims should be canceled. Claims 1, 3-15, 18, 20-30 are under examination.

The replacement abstract has been entered.

The IDS of 3/13/2007 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

The elected species of "B-splines" appears to be free of the art. The remaining species have been rejoined. This is NOT a rejoinder of additional independent and distinct inventions.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 3-15, 18, 20-30 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of copending Application No. 11/546,820. These applications have 2 inventors in common. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each is drawn to methods of constructing relationships between time course gene expression data, using Bayesian modeling and minimization of a BNRC-dynamic criteria to generate networks or graphs. Both sets of claims use similar curve-fitting models (B-splines, wavelet bases, Fourier series etc or non-parametric models, which can employ heterogeneous error variances ) Both sets of claims employ data libraries generated from gene expression data from time course studies. Both sets of claims employ “variance” as the measure of variability. Both sets of claims can employ a matrix for representation of the values. Both sets of claims employ “bootstrapping” or bootstrap methods. These bootstrapping methods are used to determine the intensity of a data edge. The genes can be grouped into sets.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
